1.1 PREAMBLE:

On the 8th of March 2016, Women all over the world will be gathering at different nations, cities, communities, churches, conventions, conferences, counties to mark the 101th United Nations Day for women.

In furtherance to this clarion call by the UN for all governments and institutions to celebrate women, on the other hand, the women must prepare themselves to be celebrated and honored.

It is on this premise, the independent committee of women and gender advocates in WAFAA are collaborating to host a unique program for Niger Delta women in Washington, DC in 2016. The WAFAA committee made a significant step and partnered with PJSC Center for Gender and Women Development Studies in University of Port Harcourt, Rivers State of Nigeria scheduled for August 29th, 2015. But the Center Director Prof. Mrs. Elizabeth C. Okeke criteria were not fully compliant with the WAFAA available time frame and resources.

We agreed all the nominees should be hosted abroad on neutral location because of the political divide in the country at the moment. About 50 percent of the high profile women already has entry permit into the United States. Therefore, the WAFAA committee further collaboration with international gender friendly organizations and corporate bodies, state and non-state actors to provide the wherewithal needed to seal a social contract with Women in honour of the international Women's Day 2016.

STEP IT UP FOR GENDER EQUALITY

"Planet 50-50 by 2030: Step It Up for Gender Equality" asks governments to make national commitments to address the challenges that are holding women and girls back from reaching their full potential within the next 15 years. Launched on the occasion of International Women's Day 2015, Step It Up showcases specific commitments that governments should make, leading up to the United Nations General Assembly in September 2015. The initiative comes at a critical moment in time as a new development agenda is taking shape to replace the Millennium Development Goals.

"When we unleash the power of women, we can secure the future for all," says UN Secretary-General Ban Ki-moon in his message for International Women's Day 2015.

1.4 CELEBRATING PROFESSIONAL URBAN WOMEN

Niger Delta professional women in the urban cities are the most unique in Nigeria in terms of corporate working experience, fashion, urban culture, demeanor, attitude, style. This is largely based on the early influence of the European culture in pre-colonial Niger Delta region when our women had marriages with Europeans

This unique feat will be showcased on international women's day in pump and pageantry. Niger Delta feminine behaviorism is attributed to a cultural mix and interracial interactions with early European visitors to Niger Delta.

The evolution of this cultural milieu resulted to western cultural importation to Niger Delta. The cumulative effect of this mix is the winning of the Miss World beauty pageant by Agbani Darego - daughter of the Niger Delta.

Based on the foregoing, 500 urban women (UK, USA, CANADA, and AFRICA) are going to be invited to participate, take action, stand up and speak out and make it happen on international women's day.

1.5 UNITING WOMEN FOR ACTION

Through the Beijing Women Platform for Action, women from every nation, class, race, religion, tribe and ethnicity have united to wage war against all forms discrimination against women by launching the 16 action steps which will be unveiled in the power point presentation on international women's day. The National Gender Policy NGP 2001 -2015 will also be reviewed.

1.6 ABOUT INTERNATIONAL WOMEN'S DAY

"Countries with more gender equality have better economic growth. Companies with more women leaders perform better. Peace agreements that include women are more durable. Parliaments with more women enact more legislation on key social issues such as health, education, anti-discrimination and child support. The evidence is clear: equality for women means progress for all."

International Women's Day is a time to reflect on progress made, to call for change and to celebrate acts of courage and determination by ordinary women who have played an extraordinary role in the history of their countries and communities.

International Women's Day emphasizes how gender equality, empowerment of women, women's full enjoyment of human rights and the eradication of poverty are essential to economic and social development. It also stresses the vital role of women as agents of development.

2015 marks the deadline to achieve the Millennium Development Goals (MDG) around the corner, International Women's Day is also an opportunity to review the challenges and achievements in the MDG implementation for women and girls, as the Commission on the Status of Women ensures that women all over the world participate in activities that will make their voice be heard.

1.7 INTERNATIONAL WOMEN'S DAY 2015 THEME: "MAKE IT HAPPEN

All around the world, International Women's Day represents an opportunity to celebrate the achievements of women while calling for greater equality.

- Make It Happen is the 2015 theme for our internationalwomensday.com global hub, encouraging effective action for advancing and recognizing women. Each year International Women's Day (IWD) is celebrated on March 8. The first International Women's Day was held in 1911. Thousands of events occur to mark the economic, political and social achievements of women. Organizations, governments, charities, educational institutions, women's groups, corporations and the media celebrate the day.

Various organizations identify their own International Women's Day theme, specific to their local context and interests. Many charities, NGOs and Governments also adopt a relevant theme or campaign to mark the day. For example, organizations like the UN, Oxfam, Women for Women, Care International, Plan, World Association of Girl Guides & Girl Scouts (WAGGGS) and more - run exciting and powerful campaigns that raise awareness and encourage donations for good causes. The UN has been declaring an annual equality theme for many years.

2.0 Why Purple?

- From 1908, the Women's Social and Political Union (WSPU) in Great Britain adopted the colour scheme of purple, white and green to symbolise the plight of the Suffragettes. Purple symbolised justice and dignity - two values strongly associated with women's equality. The three colours were used for Banners flags, rosettes and badges to show solidarity.

The Niger Delta Question

What Do You to know about using an international platform to solve a local problem?

The Niger Delta Question has risen from local to international frontiers. Women were regarded as the weak gender of the human race, yet they are more in population and play a significant role in the family and nation at large. When the region of the Niger Delta was deserted by the Federal Government of Nigeria for 50 years of non- inclusion in the distribution of oil wealth.

Women were the most affected, living below poverty levels. Vast populations of women lived in rural areas and were subjected to abject poverty. Majoring of pre-independence Niger Delta based rural women lived in thatch and mud houses without electricity. Ninety percent used fossil fuel for domestic cooking and never had the luxury of DPK induced Stove or Gas Cooker.

Many Niger Delta women faced the challenges of infant/maternal mortality, reproductive health, female circumcision, house help slavery, social discrimination, unemployment, abuse and non-inclusion in education and governance. The women gender was at the verge of moral decadence as the fallout, these challenges turned some of them to drugs, commercial sex workers and second class fiddles only useful in the kitchen. The socio economic status of women was largely impeded for centuries. We will therefore say that with the advent of democracy in Nigeria from 1999 – 2015, women have stepped advocacy to implement the 1995 Beijing Women Platform for Action. Like as Hilary Clinton stated “IF WOMEN’S RIGHTS ARE HUMAM’S RIGHT THEN HUMAN’S RIGHT ARE WOMEN’S RIGHT.

For Niger Delta women, development and empowerment is only achieved via political praise singing. The present administration at federal and state levels has recognized the rights of women to an extent. Despite the fact the Niger Delta region, and its adjoining continental shelf accounts for 97 percent of Nigeria foreign exchange, and with over N14.5 trillion naira accruing from federation account to Niger Delta States and derivation funds, N19.5 billion to Niger Delta Development Commission NNDC and N400 Billion naira to Niger Delta Ministry 1999- 2015 , and a well over 20 trillion dollars cumulative gross revenue in oil and gas exploration by IOCs/NNPC from 1958 – 2015. Niger Delta women have nothing to show for this enormous treasure. It's however a sad development that the bad governance has being the responsible for this milieu and mirage against women. Our women live in penury. Poverty among women rates are higher in Niger Delta due lack of adequate education.

WAFAA as a non-profit organization utilizes funds received through fees paid for participation in varieties of programs from financially able women, donations from well-meaning individual, groups and corporate organizations for organizing events, conferences and workshops and for charity works around the world.

WAFAA (NIGERIA—Niger Delta) 2016 in conjunction with IWD 2016

Venue: The initial venue proposed for the WAFAA (Nigeria—Niger Delta) 2016 was at the University of Port Harcourt, Rivers State, but the atmosphere in the country especially the Niger Delta region due to the change of government necessitated the change of venue, hence a decision was made to shift the venue to Washington, DC—USA in partnership with Knowledge Group Concepts, Washington, DC in partnership with IWD. The hosting of WAFAA (Nigeria - Niger Delta) 2016 in Washington, DC paved way for notable and powerful US women such as Hilary Clinton (former US Secretary of State and US Democratic Presidential hopeful in the coming 2016 US Presidential Election) and Muriel Bowser (current Mayor of the District of Columbia (DC), USA) who shall be speaking at the event.
